In connection with i.a. some changes in our IT-system, the Dansk Kennel Klub will as of the first international show in 2007 be introducing better entry procedures that will improve the possibility for correct handling of the entries.

Manuel entry using an entry form

For administrative reasons, ONLY the official entry form issued by the DKK can be used when dogs are entered manually.

If other kinds of entry forms are used, we will unfortunately have to return these to the person who has sent the entry. The official DKK entry form can be ordered at the DKK by tel. +45 5618 8156 (order phone) or +45 5618 8100, can be printed from the DKK website www.dansk-kennel-klub.dk, will appear from relevant issues of the DKK magazine HUNDEN and can be fetched in the information stand at the DKK dog shows.

If the deadline for entry is not observed, the dog cannot participate.

At manual entry, the official DKK entry form and the entry fee must reach the DKK office by post by the first Monday morning after the closing date (the postmark date cannot be used as documentation for entry within the time stated). Entry forms that have been received after the time stated, will be returned to the sender.

Alternatively, the entry can be put in the DKK letter box by 08.00 on the first Monday morning after the closing date. It will not be possible to deliver entry forms for the show in question after the above time – not even e.g. by personal appearance at the DKK office.

As a novelty, the persons who enter their dog manually will – soon after receipt of the entry - get an e-mail or a letter from the DKK confirming receipt of the entry. The confirmation will contain i.a. information about the dog's pedigree number and the entry class. If the information stated in the confirmation does not correspond to the information the exhibitor believes he/she has stated on the entry form, the exhibitor must contact the DKK right away in order to have a possible mistake corrected.

If the exhibitor has not received exhibition papers from the DKK 10 days before the show, the above-mentioned confirmation will be considered valid documentation for receipt of the entry within the time stated, if a technical or administrative mistake should have arisen, and the dog will consequently be able to take part in the show.

On-line entry via the DKK website

At on-line entry via the DKK website, the system automatically closes at 08.00 on the first Monday morning after the closing date. The exhibitor must always print and save the confirmation, which is automatically returned from the DKK on-line system, as it will be considered valid documentation for receipt of the entry within the time stated, if a technical or administrative mistake should have arisen.

Best regards
